Reign as King and Queen of Yearbook

King Max Miller and Queen Mary Fink were crowned with those respective regal titles the night of the Tower Dance at the special intermission. College students who attended the dance elected these two. Max is a member of the Phi Sigma Epsilon and Mary is a member of the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority.

Max Miller and Mary Fink Are Chosen Tower King and Queen

Mr. W. T. Garrett Receives Tower Dedication; Bill Baker's Band Plays Among Scintillating Lights

Max Miller and Mary Fink have been selected as king and queen of this year's Tower. They were chosen by vote of students and airmen who attended the Tower Dance, February 9, in rooms 113 and 114 of the Administration building.

During the intermission ceremonies, a door in replica of a tower cover opened and Max and Mary stepped out onto the white carpet to become king and queen of the 1952 Tower. Followed by their attendants, Louise Novinger, John Yurchak, Joyce Bailey, and George Coulter, they proceeded to the platform, where Mildred Maxon, editor of the Tower, officially crowned them king and queen and presented them with small golden trophies in remembrance of the honor.

Mr. William Trago Garrett was honored with the announcement that the 1952 Tower will be dedicated to him because of his interest in students and their extra-curricular activities as well as his years of service to the College.

Decorations at the dance were done in a modernistic manner. From the ceiling in Room 114 were suspended large geometric designs, circles, triangles, and rectangles, each with smaller designs of the same kind in turn suspended from them. These mobiles, as they are known to art students, were made of many colors of metallic paper and glittered brightly from the spotlights which were shining on them.

Refreshments, which were served from two tables in Room 113 by Mary Ellen Daniels and Mary Jane Peck, consisted of punch, cookies, nuts, and mints.

Horace Mann Laboratory School Features 2-6-6-4 in Grouping

By MELVA HEITS

One feature which distinguishes Horace Mann Laboratory School from most schools in this area is the plan which it employs in the grouping of grades. The 2-6-6-4 plan commonly used has been replaced in Horace Mann with the 2-6-6-4 plan which means two years of pre-school training, six years of elementary, six years of secondary, and four years of college work.

Horace Mann Senior High School which offers thirty-five units of work is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Two hundred and fifteen students are enrolled in the secondary division with forty-five in junior high and one hundred and seventy in senior high.

Classes Average Eighteen
Classes in senior high have an average size of eighteen pupils and a range from three in geometry to thirty-three in world history. If the enrollment for one class is too large, the class is divided into sections with a supervising teacher for each section.

All junior high students pursue basic courses, which include English, mathematics, social studies, and science, in one room. For music, art, industrial arts, and physical education the students go to other buildings on the campus. Also, they use the library and study hall with senior high students.

Supervisors Are in Charge
One supervising teacher, Mrs. Pauline Arthur, is in charge of all of the basic courses in the seventh grade, and she is also supervising teacher of English and social studies in the eighth grade. Mr. Stephen Kyrius is the supervising teacher of mathematics and science in the eighth grade.

An important part played by the secondary division is the training of student teachers. Student teachers are not only assigned to class room work, but are given experience in study hall, library, and noon hour activities and supervision, sponsoring parties, and doing things that would be required of them when they accept a position. Junior high is used to prepare both elementary and secondary teachers since junior high is placed in different divisions in different school systems.

Sixty-nine are in Training
There are now sixty-nine students doing student teaching in the junior and senior high school.

Playing an important part in the extracurricular activities is the student council under the sponsorship of Miss Rachel Taul. This body, through committees, sponsors assemblies, the annual Parents' Night, drives, and social events.

Mr. H. R. Dieterich, principal of Horace Mann Laboratory School, does not feel that the activities of Horace Mann are in any way overshadowed by college activities. Instead, Horace Mann's activity schedule is coordinated with that

Preparations Are Made for New Quarter

Final Examinations Begin This Saturday, Extend to Wednesday

Students Will Register for Spring Quarter Tuesday, March 4; Short Course Term Will Begin on Apr. 19

By HERBIE AWE

Winter quarter of 1951 and 1952 will draw to a close Wednesday, February 27, and the spring quarter will begin March 4 with registration. Students will begin class-work Wednesday, March 5.

At present, however, study is the key word employed by the students in this arduous last week grind. Textbooks squeak as the lids are lifted and the pages piled apart for that final examinations review.

Term papers are the classic pieces of work, though, and sleepless nights are in store for those who procrastinated. Even now the theme of "He who hesitates is lost" seems to be applicable.

Changes Are Made

According to Mr. Robert Foster, registrar of the College, there have been several changes which will go into effect for the spring quarter. Agriculture: Drop 19; change 15 from 10 to 1; and add Ag. 121 at 10.

First Assembly of Spring Quarter to Present Acting Duo

Mr. Hal Holbrook and Miss Lee Firestone will present their highly dramatic show, "Theater of Great Personalities," in the College auditorium on Wednesday, March 19, at 10 a.m.

In a series of fifteen-minute scenes, the young acting duo portrays such famous characters as Mark Twain, Queen Elizabeth and Lord Essex, young Queen Victoria and Prince Albert, Hamlet and Ophelia. The show is so set up that it moves rapidly without long waits.

Anecdotal introductions in advance of each scene give the audience the opportunity of meeting the young artists informally in front of the curtain as they give a brief background sketch of each character to be portrayed. Especially selected musical interludes tie the scenes together.

Miss Firestone is a graduate of Northwestern University where she won a scholarship for her portrayal of Ophelia in "Hamlet." She has appeared on widely-known television shows in New York, including "Studio One" and "The Firestone Hour."

Hal Holbrook, with his wife, Ruby, has toured in forty-three of the forty-eight states as well as Canada.

Noah Prepares to Embark in Scene of Famous Story

Noah prepares to embark upon his famous trip in an ark which he built in preparation. With him are gathered his followers, following his leadership despite the comments of one called the "Angry Man." The play "Noah" was given at the College auditorium Monday and yesterday. In the foreground are Bernard O'Dell, Tiger; Bill Hunter, Bear; Jim Hogan, Lion; Lynn Adams, Ham; Roberta Cronkhite, Monkey; Jacky Donaldson, Norma; Eddie Woltz, Noah; Don French, Angry Man. Second row are Mary Rhodes, Lamb; Joan Cartwright, Wolf; Melva June Heits, Ada; Max Dixon, Japhet; Richard Jenkins, Shem.

Both Humor and Drama Are Achieved in 'Noah' Through Precise Directing and Skillful Acting

By DR. FRANK W. GRUBE

The majesty and beauty of the Bible story were brought to the College auditorium last night and Monday night through the precise coaching of Ralph Fulsom, a most remarkable piece of acting by Eddie Woltz in the title role, and a very fine supporting cast in the speech department's presentation of Andre Obey's "Noah."

Students and townspeople who attended either of the performances became aware that they were in for an unusual treat from the moment of the opening curtain, which followed special organ music.

Modernistic Setting

The beautiful and modernistic setting which appeared depicted a view of the stern of the Ark resting on its improvised cradle among the trees of the forest. Noah was humming as he pounded in the last nails of his floodbound boat.

From here the story rolled on, at times quaint and humorous, at times sheerly delightful, at times powerfully dramatic, to its well known climax, the return of the dove from the long-awaited land, and its conclusion, with Noah's despair at the seeming futility of the whole voyage as his family scattered and left him a lonely old man, relieved by the appearance of the rainbow lifting his spirits to hope for a better future.

Woltz Portrayed Noah

At all times, Eddie Woltz as Noah measured up to the demands of his part. It was no mean feat to play both the whimsicality and deep religious feeling of Obey's Noah, but Eddie portrayed every shifting mood with sensitiveness. (Continued On Page Four)

Miss Katherine Franken Makes Her Life Career of Psychology

By JO ANN HAGEE

Miss Katherine Ann Franken, member of the education department, has taught classes on this campus for thirty years. She obtained her bachelor of science degree from Missouri University and her master's degree from Columbia University, New York. She has also done post graduate work at the University of Colorado, the University of Minnesota, and the University of Iowa.

Before coming to the College, Miss Franken spent eight years as a high school teacher in Breckenridge, Chillicothe, and Marshall, and one year in the State Department at Jefferson City.

First Course Fascinated Her

When she began her education, Miss Franken was majoring in languages, but in her junior year in Missouri University she took her first course in psychology and it so fascinated her that she has taught psychology since.

Miss Franken was born in Norborne and is one of a family of twelve children of whom five are teachers, two are lawyers, and one is a vocational agriculture teacher in county agent work.

In 1921, Miss Franken helped to organize the Newman Club on the campus and it has been a strong organization through the years. She had previously belonged to it in both New York and Missouri.

Likes to Travel

Among Miss Franken's leisure time activities are reading history and world affairs, and collecting old books, but that which most greatly interests her is traveling. She has visited the greater part of the United States, and has been in Panama, Hawaii, and Japan.

While in Japan, Miss Franken taught psychology to the G. I.'s of almost every allied country, including Australia, England, China, and Russia, in the Central A. E. P. College in Tokyo during the year 1945-47.

When the new constitution of Japan was promulgated, Miss Franken was one of the few privileged to attend a session of the Diet. She visited at the castle of Prince Masegiri, who is the nephew of Emperor Hirohito of Japan. She was permitted to see the prince's collection of model horses and ships and his daughter's collection of dolls, supposed to be the largest in the world.

Saw China's Gift

While in the college in Japan, Miss Franken saw the collection of rare paintings of the Imperial Household of China, which was sent by China to the United States in gratitude for war-time aid.

In her travels Miss Franken has made many friends and has maintained correspondence with many persons, including an eminent Japanese authority on brain waves, and a former student of the College who is now studying psychology in the University of Oslo, Norway.

KATHERINE FRANKEN

In the 30 years that Miss Franken has taught in Northwest Missouri College, she has had many students under her guidance. She has had an average of 150 students a quarter and the total average for the span of her teaching years amounts to 18,000 students.

Has Three Goals

After her retirement Miss Franken intends to achieve three goals. First, if world conditions will permit it, she plans to travel in Europe and Africa. Secondly, she wants to finish a book on adolescent psychology which she has begun. Lastly, and probably most entertaining, she plans to take time off to go "just fishing."

Can You Work? Let WSSF Know

Students soon will have an opportunity to contribute to the World Student Service Fund drive which is being conducted on this campus under the leadership of the Student Senate.

A work-day has been planned for March 15. Under such, students will be asked to volunteer their services and work for cooperative townspeople on this day, all their earnings being turned over to the WSSF.

The school has a long way to go to reach its goal and will need the cooperation of the people in town in providing work for volunteering students. They should call 671 if they have any work for students on March 15.

Meanwhile, on registration day, the Student Senate will ask students to sign a pledge to work on this day. Each student is requested to offer his services.

Workshop for PTA Will Help Develop Local Leadership

Between quarters, February 27, 28, and 29, the College and the Missouri Congress of Parents and Teachers will sponsor a workshop to develop leaders in the educational activities of local PTA organizations.

Delegates from PTA organizations throughout northwest Missouri will receive training in role-playing and "buzz" discussion techniques. Lectures on the developmental tasks in early childhood, later childhood, adolescence, and adulthood will be given by Miss Chloë E. Millikan, Miss Mary E. Keith, and Dr. Leon Miller. Horace Mann supervising teachers, parents, and Maryville public school administrators will participate in panel discussions on "Parent-Teacher Relationships" and "Joint Responsibilities in Parent Education." A film, "Meeting the Emotional Needs of Children," followed by open discussion, will be presented during an evening session.

Mrs. R. R. Boswell, state PTA chairman of parent education from Kansas City, is the coordinator of the workshop. The Horace Mann and Eugene Field PTA organizations are working jointly on arranging an informal reception, an evening dinner, on housing arrangements, and on general publicity.

Former Student Will Join Cotley Faculty

Cotley College, at Nevada, Missouri, has announced that Mr. Pierre Sotteau, of 37 Rue Jule Reclamier, at Lyon, France, will become a member of the faculty next year as a French teacher.

Mr. Sotteau is a graduate of Northwest Missouri State College. On May 26, 1940, he was conferred a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in English and a minor in history. He had completed 130.5 semester hours.

Dr. Blanche Dow, president of Cotley College, was formerly chairman of the Northwest Missouri State College foreign language department when Pierre was a student here. At present Pierre is teaching in France.

October 32nd

At a recent basketball game one of the students asked the student who was impersonating me in the Green and White Peppers between-the-halves stunt when the Student Union would be ready for use, and the answer was "October 32nd." That is one of the best answers I have heard to a question that has plagued me a great deal. There are several things yet to be done before the Student Union will be available for use. I should like the student body to know what these things are.

First: The contractor's work includes construction only. There is a great deal to be done AFTER the contractor finishes his work. The furnishings have to be put in by other firms. Practically everything needed is on order and should be received in due time. But... October 32nd is the safest answer as to when!

Second: A drive way has to be constructed to deliver supplies to the northwest door. Work can not start on this road until the contractor is out of the way AND the frost is out of the ground.

I assure you that the Student Union is going to be useful and beautiful. It will be truly a laboratory for gracious living on the part of the student body. I know that I can rely upon your patience to give us time to get it completed. In the meantime, I ask each of you to resolve to do your utmost to keep the building clean, neat, and a pleasant place in which to enjoy yourselves.

IT'S INVITATION TIME

Parents' Day is drawing near; only four weeks and two days remain. What plans have you made for the event? Are you sure that your parents are coming? These are questions any student on the campus might well ask himself.

For days during the school year the spotlight is focused on that struggling bit of humanity grouped in the general category of college students but at Northwest Missouri State College on March 21 things are going to be different! On that date "Mom" and "Dad" will be placed in the limelight.

During the afternoon students will guide their parents around the campus and show them places of interest. The schedule begins with registration and then includes demonstrations, exhibits, and an evening assembly.

Whether Parents' Day is a success depends upon the cooperation of the entire student body. This special opportunity to show your parents your Alma Mater comes only once a year. Do not fail to take advantage of it—make sure your parents are here!

—Thelma Buckley

TAKE A LOOK

It is the experience of nearly everyone who places information on the bulletin boards in the Administration building, whether he is an organization president, committee chairman, faculty member, or just a fellow student, to be told by those to whom the item is directed, "Oh, you know I never read the bulletin boards," or "Was it on the board? I must have overlooked it." These are not adequate reasons for neglecting responsibilities.

The bulletin boards are convenient and inexpensive ways to let you know what is going on at the College. It would be impractical and expensive to send notices through the mail to each person, and it is impossible to get in touch with all members of an organization.

It does not take long to read these bulletins. The name of the group addressed is on each bulletin in a conspicuous position, making it unnecessary to read all of them.

Yet, many of you pass these bulletin boards several times during the day without stopping. You are asked why you missed that meeting, or you are told by your adviser "this course is not offered next term."

Why not save trouble for yourself and others? Read the bulletin boards.

—Harley Hackett

WHAT WOULD YOU THINK?

Why is it necessary that the north entrance to the Administration building look like the city dump? I realize that it is necessary to have an outlet for the waste paper, but this situation seems to have gone to the extreme. The matter may seem trivial, but the accumulation of paper and trash around the north door is dangerous.

First, there is the fire hazard problem. It seems much easier to step out of this door and smoke than to walk down to the lounge and smoke, especially for some. A flip of a match or cigarette could start a fire of considerable proportions. I wonder what those cans and barrels stored under the stairway contain? Their contents might prove inflammable.

Another thought to be kept in mind is the fact that strangers judge our school by its appearance. What would you think, if you were an outsider, if the first thing you saw was a pile of trash?

—B.

Student Teaching Under New Plan Is Discussion Topic

Student teachers' evaluations of their experiences and plans for expanding the student teaching program under a semester organization were topics for discussion at the last seminar of the winter quarter for student teachers on February 14.

Mrs. Anna Helmbaugh, representing the secondary student teachers, and Bill Owens, representing the elementary student teachers, with Mr. Leon Miller as moderator, presented student teachers' points of view of the strengths, weaknesses, and suggestions for improvement of their directed teaching experiences.

Summarize Reports

Students summarized the evaluation reports made by student teachers. Student teachers at both levels rated their actual teaching experiences highly but felt that they needed more actual experience.

Following the panel presentation, Dr. Miller reported on improvements being planned for next fall at the beginning of the two-semester school year. Elementary student teachers will have expanded teaching experience by having a block of two consecutive hours in the classroom, supplemented by observation of and participation in the kind of things teachers do in addition to teaching.

May Elect Credit

Secondary student teachers will have an opportunity of electing additional directed teaching credit which would result in a consecutive two-hour block of teaching, but only one hour in the classroom will actually be required. Secondary student teachers will also be assigned additional laboratory experience, such as experience in study halls, in the library, during the noon hour, in out-of-class and community activities, and in conferences and seminars. The possibilities of integrating directed teaching with other education courses were also presented.

Four seminars are scheduled for the spring quarter. The first, on March 6, will begin with an orientation and will be followed by a get-acquainted and coffee hour in the Kindergarten suite of the Horace Mann Laboratory School. Supervising teachers and primary student teachers will be the hosts.

From The Air

By STANLEY HALPERN

The clerk-typist program at Northwest Missouri State College is rapidly drawing to a close. With the graduation of Group 28 on the 8th of February the Squadron was left with its full complement of men.

The gradual waning away of the program however has been climaxed by several notable events. Most prominent in the eyes of everyone was the generous giving of blood and of their money towards the March of Dimes.

However, the airman felt that yet another expression of their unity with the town was in order. After taking a picture of the entire Squadron Saturday morning, February 9, the Squadron resolved to give the townspeople a display of their full strength.

At 10 a.m. the comparative quiet of the streets was broken as the airman, 250 strong, led by Master Sergeant Craft and reviewed by Lieutenants Fajot and Wagner, treated the town to an exhibition of a squadron formation.

With this last parting gesture the airman bid farewell to the city in which so many of them since the inception of the program at the college had spent so many pleasant weeks.

Instructors Give Series of Recitals

The second in a series of recitals being presented by the faculty of the Division of Music was given last night in the Horace Mann auditorium. Mr. Kenneth Bird, instructor in piano and organ, and Mr. Gilbert Whitney, instructor in voice, gave a joint recital. Mr. Bird played the Brahms Variations and Fugue on a Theme by Handel.

The second half of the program consisted of two groups of German Lieder by Schubert, Brahms, and Wolf, sung by Mr. Whitney.

These faculty recitals are to run through June and are planned so that music of different periods will be performed each time. These recitals are open to the public. Students and faculty alike may attend. The next recital will be on March 18. Mr. Donald Sandford, instructor in string instruments and an outstanding violinist, will give the recital. Mr. Sandford will be accompanied by his wife. Both Mr. and Mrs. Sandford have performed many times for the College and in the surrounding area and recently returned from an engagement at Portales, New Mexico.

Watch for the rummage and bake sale the Tri Sigmas will be having at the beginning of the spring quarter. No matter if you are short, tall, thin, or "pleasing" plump, there will be clothes you can wear, and food you can eat! The exact date has not yet been decided upon.

Demi-Tasse Players Give Performance

The performance in assembly today is to be a presentation by the Demi-Tasse players in a program which features the "most unique dramatic group ever offered."

AAUP Has Program By Speech Students

Members of the American Association of University Professors met Tuesday night in Room 103 of the Administration building. After the business meeting they were entertained by a program given by the speech department. Mr. Ralph Fulson in charge.

The program consisted of a group reading of a speech by the Speech 51 class and two short stories presented in the chamber-drama style by the Interpretation (Speech 72) class.

Read Speech

The reading of the speech, "Fear Only Educated Men" by Kenneth I. Brown, was by Mac Warden. Dennis Rupp, Elizabeth Cushman, Alene Norris, Lyle Martin, Pat McCray and Louise Munson.

Two short stories by James Thurber were presented in chamber-drama style. They were "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty" and "The Night the Ghost Got In."

Characters in "Mitty"

Characters in "Mitty" were as follows: Walter Mitty, Jim Hogan; Reader, Richard Jenkins; Mitty's wife, Rika Sweringa; Lt. Berg, Jim Colville; Dr. Renshaw, Dick Willis; Cop, Bernard O'Dell; District Attorney, Bill Hunter; Nurse, Rika Sweringa; Sergeant, Dick Willis; Store Clerk, Bernard O'Dell; Girl, Rika Sweringa; and Parking Lot attendant, Jim Colville.

Included in "The Night the Ghost Got In" were the following: Reader, Bill Hunter; Brother Herman, Bernard O'Dell; Mother, Rika Sweringa; Sergeant, Dick Willis; Colville, Richard Jenkins; Reporter, Dick Willis; Grandfather, Jim Hogan; and Angryman, Richard Jenkins.

In this style of presentation the group used very few props and relies heavily upon the audience and its strong imagination.

John L. Harr Reviews Books for Magazines

John L. Harr, chairman of the social science department, is reviewing several books. His review of Confederate Leaders in the New South by W. B. Hesseltine appeared in a recent issue of Social Studies. Dr. Harr has reviewed Angot Raasen's Grapes of the Earth. Other reviews not yet completed are The Rise of the New South 1877-1919, Vol. IX, for Social Education, and The Dammed Missouri Valley by R. G. Baumhoff, for the Missouri Social Studies Bulletin.

Quill Quibblings

by Herbie Awe

Intramural competition in basketball is or is about to be completed once again. This year a new program was inaugurated by Coach Don Peterson which made intramural activity more readily available to every male on the campus.

And yet, there has not been the success in the basketball playing that there has been in previous years. If it is a question of policy, it is difficult to come to any conclusions because of the logical expectations of the success of this new program.

The program is one of the better methods of conducting intramural competition, but I believe it did not work because it was too theoretically judged.

In reality, the men on this campus want to form their own teams, selecting their own teammates. Once this has been done an element of interest, which has been lacking this year, will be more conducive to better organization and will encourage more active participation.

Intramurals is a voluntary activity; it seems that any sort of coercion develops only lackadaisical participation and passive interest. As a result, basketball play has been non-impressive this quarter.

The number of forfeitures in the intramural play has been depressing. Teams in the "B" group experienced many and as a result players decided "it wasn't worth while."

Under this new set up physical education majors were in charge of their respective groups; each was to create more incentive among the membership. This has been unsuccessful because of the heterogeneity of the groups.

Intramurals is designed for athletic playing. The thing, however, that gives the wide program the necessary punch is the organization, the system, and schedules. From this recent experience it looks as if some change might be made in the assignment of playing locations and times.

Conducting an intramural program is a tremendous task, and the members of the Commission have done a commendable job. But the fact still remains, the success of basketball this year is not up to par with that of previous years.

Next quarter is the intramural softball competition. Members of the Commission: Is the present set up applicable for the kind of intramural competition we want on this campus?

Paul Gates Will Attend Ceremony for College

Paul Gates will represent Northwest Missouri State College at the all-day program to be held March 4 at North Texas State College to honor President J. C. Matthews and President Emeritus W. J. McConnell and to dedicate $5,500,000 in new buildings.

Dr. Ben H. Wooten, chairman of the Board of Regents, will conduct the installation. Dr. Matthews assumed the presidency last September upon the voluntary retirement of Dr. McConnell.

Eight new buildings will be dedicated which include Masters hall, the education building, library annex, women's gymnasium, football stadium, and Kendall hall, the new women's dormitory.

Paul Gates was graduated from the College in 1948 with a major in physical education and minors in commerce and business administration.

He received his M. A. degree from Northwestern University last spring and is now working toward a Ph. D. degree at North Texas State College.

Associations Appoint Dr. Harr to Committees

John L. Harr, chairman of the social science department, has been appointed to the membership committee of the Southern Historical Association and to the program committee for the 1952 Mississippi Valley Historical Association meeting.

Dr. Harr is also a member of a new committee of the National Council of Social Studies to promote cooperation and integration of meetings of various learned societies in the social science field.

Student Teachers Take Annual Business Trip

Three practice teachers of business, accompanied by Mr. Dale Blackwell, took their annual business trip, Thursday, February 7.

They visited the Mayville and King City high schools and observed the commercial classes. Mary Jo Vernon, Betty Stroud and Dick Gordon made the trip.

Trobe-Garrett

Miss Evelyn Elita Trobe, of Lincoln, Nebraska, was married to William Trobe Garrett, Jr., of Maryville, Sunday, February 3, at Trinity Methodist church, Lincoln, Nebraska. The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Trago Garrett of Maryville, was graduated from the College in 1951 and is a member of Phi Sigma Epsilon. He is now with the U. S. Navy, stationed at the Naval Air Station in Lincoln, Nebraska.

William E. Ogden, of Maryville, was best man, and Wendell D. Spoor, of Maryville, was an usher.

The Stroller

As another quarter is nearing an end the Stroller has noticed a few "last minute diggers" sneaking in and out of the Library—they hate to be seen wasting time in a matter!

Did everyone notice the resemblance between half-time activities at the Warrensburg game and the Ringling Brothers Circus? Maybe Bill Yauch should turn professional!

Perhaps if the fellows who said "there aren't any girls around here to take out (even to the Tower Dance)" could view their egotistical personality they might not judge lest they be judged accordingly. That's all!

Hats off to all who did the wonderful job on the Tower Dance. Congratulations to the new royalty—Pink and Miller.

Our campus is quite athletic—even houses a couple of boxing champions!

The Stroller wonders why they don't put leashes on the poodles!

One by the name of Nelson or "Tuson" is heard quite frequently, of late, singing "Broken Hearted." How about that, Sue?

Many hearts must have been touched by St. Valentine, judging from the generous exchange of valentines, candy, and flowers on this day. Maybe it is just the spring in the air.

Cena Davis thinks that Uncle Sam's mail is a wonderful thing—certainly can cheer one up at times!

Girls at 612 North Mulberry had quite a scare last week when Joyce Osburn, while looking for some things in the closet, was seen by Pat Ford, who thought that she was hanging! The end of the quarter isn't that bad, is it?

Roberta Cronkwhite's philosophy about "Noah" is "Yours not to reason why—yours but to 'Obey' or die."

Here's hoping that each and every one of you has happy parents at the end of the quarter—happy because their sons and daughters made such good grades!

In response to a poem entitled, "The Airman of the 3475th," which appeared recently in the Northwest Missourian, comes this verse from a member of an Air Police Squadron in Columbus, Ohio.

To the Boys of the 3475th
For you dear boys our hearts just bleed,
It really must be tough, with all those books to read.

Little boys, of course you're griping,
I can't see how you take that typing.
Of course with you we wouldn't trade,
It's said the Air Police have it made.
It sure is fun in the cold of night,
Guarding the planes way out of sight,
We ask . . . for a little heat,
The snow and rain our faces do beat.
We hear a noise—we hit the ground,
Our hearts begin to pound and pound.
We wonder who or what would dare
To break the stillness of the air.
Though at times you "kids" feel low,
You'll pull through, that we know.
For boys like you are hard to find,
We'd use our noses if we were blind.
While on post just come to see us,
Bring your books, we'll make no fuss;
By our planes just try to walk,
We'll fix you so you'll never squawk.
With bayonets fixed our posts we roan,
We'll make you wish you'd stayed at home.

Wilmeth Will Address Social Science Group

Dr. J. Richard Wilmeth, a former member of the faculty of Northwest Missouri State College and at present a member of the faculty of the University of Iowa, will make a luncheon address in the Georgian Room of the Continental Hotel, Kansas City, April 5, on the subject, "The Teaching of a Unified Course in Social Science."

His address will be given in conjunction with the "Teaching of Social Science" conference to be sponsored by the University of Missouri with the support of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, April 4 and 5 at the Continental Hotel in Kansas City.

ACEI Holds Its Annual Valentine's Day Party

In keeping with tradition, the members of the Association for Childhood Education took time out from their professional training to attend a Valentine's party on February 12, at 7 p.m., in the Horace Mann Kindergarten room.

Miss Chloe Millikan, sponsor of the organization, is hostess every year at this party. Those attending the party participated in games, and refreshments were served.

Charles Newton Goes To Duty in Far East

Charles Newton, of the class of 1950, has been assigned to overseas duty somewhere in the Far East. Charles, recently promoted as a sergeant in the army, spent part of his furlough before embarkation from California, with his aunt and uncle in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

While there he also visited Harbo Bolinder and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oee, faculty members of the College last year.

File Application Now

All eligible students who intend to take the Selective Service College Qualification Test in 1952 should file applications at once for the April 24 administration. Selective Service National Headquarters advised today.

An application and a bulletin of information may be obtained at any Selective Service local board. Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application immediately and mail it in the special envelope provided. Applications must be postmarked no later than midnight, March 10, 1952. Early filing will be greatly to the student's advantage.

Results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student, according to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test.

Are You Interested In Physical Science Aid?

The Zone Deputy Collector positions are with the Bureau of Internal Revenue in these same states, and the starting salary is $4205 per year.

Interested persons should contact the civil service secretary at the post office in this city for complete information about the requirements for the positions and for the necessary application forms.

Honorary Educational Fraternity Pledges Seventeen

Delta Sig Pledges Entertain Actives

Delta Sigma Epsilon pledges gave a square dance, "The D. S. E. Jubilee," Saturday evening, February 16, in honor of the Delta Sigma actives.

Since the theme was an old-fashioned square dance, the room was decorated to resemble the inside of a barn. Kerosene lanterns, farm animals made from cardboard, and pointed ears of corn hung around the room. Old-fashioned milking stools and bales of straw on which to sit were placed around the room.

Wear Colorful Costumes
Colorful square dance costumes were worn by the girls, while the boys were dressed in jeans and plaid shirts. The music was furnished by records.

Pledges were in charge of the program, but actives were called upon to entertain without any preparation. The program consisted of "Quicksilver" sung by Mary Joy Groom, Georgia Ann Harms, Mary Anne Hawkins and Marcella Miles; a dialogue by Norma Jean McDaniel and Frances Curry; another "Little Brown Jug" by the quartet; a dialogue by Carolee Miller and Jean Anderson, Wilma Payne, Ardis McNeal, Pat McCray. Front row: Evelyn Shaline, Phyllis Standlee, Betty Teaford, Violet Casey, Irene Schmitz, Lucille Hunzinger, Elaine Dyer, Elizabeth Cushman, Dixie Morehouse, Bonnie Henderson.

Serve Pop Corn Balls
Refreshments which were served by the pledges after the program included green and white popcorn balls in a bushel basket, apples which were placed in an old nail keg, and a cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett W. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Houghton were the chaperones.

Colhecon Gives Dance For Ag Club Tomorrow
Betty Ann Crider is general chairman of a dance to be given by Colhecon on February 21, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Bearcats' Den Lounge. The dance will be for the Ag Club boys and their dates and the Colhecon members and their dates.

In keeping with the occasion, the girls are to wear cotton frocks and the boys are to wear blue jeans.

Committees for planning the dance are as follows: food, Ramona Sommer and Norma Waters; decorations, Harriet Watson; entertainment, Bonnie Henderson and Lucille Steinhauer.

Harriet Watson has chosen for the decorations a play as the center of attraction with the setting sun as a background.

Included among the other numbers on the program will be an accordion solo by Rosetta Reed and a modern dance by Jo Ellen Wilson.

Kappa Phi Will Send Delegates to Meeting

Kappa Omicron Phi members are considering a plan to send three girls by plane from the local airport to Charleston, Illinois, for the regional meeting which will be held March 15.

At their last meeting, held in the Home Economics Lounge, local members heard a report by Barbara Hudson on the concession stand which Kappa Omicron Phi sponsored at the basketball game of January 25. Various convective project committee reports were given. Election of new officers was mentioned.

Pledges, with Lucille Steinhauer as chairman, made plans to sponsor a party for the organization.

Mrs. Everett Long of Burlington Junction has announced the engagement of her daughter, Alice Margaret, and Charley Ralph Spratt, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Spratt, also of Burlington Junction. The couple will be married March 16.

Dr. John L. Harr, chairman of the social science department, solicited contributions from the college faculty for the Boy Scout Fund drive in Maryville last week.

Tri Sig Pledge Group Dons White in Pinafore Time

Taus Beat Phi Sigs, But After Effects Defeat All Players

Faculty members of the College have been noticing the adeptness of certain fraternity men on the campus for the past two weeks. Interaction brought out the fact that the contest between the Sig Tau Bums and the Phi Sig Crums on February 6 had a depressing effect physically.

Bill Slaughter still grimaces at the thought of getting up that next morning, and Jack Bright is still remorseful over his physical condition since that night.

Coaches Are Puzzled
Coaches Bill Gram and Bud Kysar are still delving into P. E. books trying to figure out how that game was ever completed.

As a whole, however, ten Sig Tau Bums are satisfied over the basketball endeavor because of the pronounced victory over the Phi Sig Crums, 35-24.

The Phi Sig Crums broke fast to take a 7-4 first quarter lead but excellent offensive play by the Taus gave them a 16-15 margin at half time. The Bums went on to a 25-19 edge at the third quarter and skirted on easily to the remaining minutes.

A large turnout occurred in response to invitations sent by the two fraternities. Sister sororities came out en masse to cheer for their "ten poorest brother players."

Unmentionable
Bob Kariger led the Sig Tau element in a few snappy, unmentionable cheers and Johnny Carlson and Jerry Shiel contracted for the other side.

Bob Glenn, Walt Stanton, and Paul Tobin served as the timer and scorekeepers. Herschel Martin and Mons Roll did a humorous job of officiating, neglecting to discharge Bill Ogden, who was dressed as a woman, from the floor despite the fact he was a sixth player. "Not a man," they contended.

Rivalry Has Beginning
Intrafraternity basketball rivalry now has its beginning. If the men are in good enough shape another contest might be staged, but it looks as if tradition will be carried on next year.

High scorer for the teams was Charlie Oelermann with 9 points. Burl Walter of the Phi Sigs had 4 counters while Herbie Awe and Don Corbin of the Sig Taus connected with 6 points each.

Engagement
Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Noelsch, Oregon, announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy Lee, to William G. Norton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Norton, Kendall, N. Y. The wedding date has been set for May 24.

Maria Daranyi, a junior, is from Miraflores, Lima, Peru. She is majoring in fine arts and minoring in English and French. Maria plans to return home at the end of the spring quarter but has made no definite plans about her future after that time.

Phi Sig Pledges Have Endured Many Hardships in Initiation

One Spends Hour in City Jail, Another Curls Hair, All Are Taken Into Country and Left for Night

Phi Sigma Epsilon pledges went through all the terrors and hardships that accompany their traditional "Hell Night" on Saturday night, February 9. Because of the Tower Dance the initiation did not begin until 1:30 a. m.

"Hell Night" began with a very noisy "Parade of the Pledges." All pledges had to have paddles, a handkerchief large enough for blind-folding, three eggs, a fresh fish at least six inches long to be worn by a string around the neck against the skin, and either a pet or a noise-maker. The pets and noise-makers were assigned to the pledges by the actives.

Tasks Follow Parade
After the parade the pledges gathered at the chapter room for their first duty of the morning. Tasks were many and varied. One pledge was sent to "Kings" approximately every five minutes for coffee. A time limit was set and the pledge had to be back within that time.

Other pledges walked a mile and one-half to an old deserted farm house to pick up a package that had been put there by the actives. Ghosts were wailing and clanking chains in the upstairs of this house but the pledges managed to return safely. Still another pledge had to have his hair curled within thirty minutes. Johnson and Hubbell Conive One pledge felt the "strong arm" of the law as he was picked up behind the Holt Supply Company and jailed for attempted burglary. He spent an hour in the "jug" before his pledge-master, Frank Johnson, and "Whitey" Hubbell came to the rescue.

Showing complete consideration for the pledges, the actives treated them to a breakfast of macaroni cooked in alum, raw liver, and raw egg.

After breakfast the pledges enjoyed a Phi Sig version of tar and feathering as syrup and sawdust were liberally applied to the hapless victims. The pledges were then blindfolded and escorted out of town in groups of two. They were left on some dark country road to wander helplessly until they found their way home. Thus ended that time of terror for all brave men; that time when all actives turn their minds to deeds of mischief—in other words, "Hell Night."

The room was decorated with hearts and cupid. Music for the round dancing was furnished by Wick's Sound System.

Arrangements and decorations for the dance were made by Janice Walsh, Marlan John, Patricia Cianciolo, P. F. C. Donald McGeary, P. F. C. Jack Gogman, and P. F. C. Norman Peckham.

Seventeen Kappa Delta Pi Pledges Will Go Active

Following is a list of the new senior members, their home towns, and majors: Ethel Benson, Cameron, elementary education; Ersel Eickemeyer, Hepburn, Iowa, elementary education; Joan Hansen, Conception Junction, home economics; Betty Martin, Princeton, home economics; Louise Tobin, Burlington Junction, home economics; Dwan Wick, Atton, Iowa, physics.

New junior members are as follows: Mary Bauman, Savannah, home economics; Carolyn Butt, Westboro, English; Mary Ellen Daniels, Lathrop, social science; Barbara Hudson, Carrollton, home economics; Marilyn Linton, Lock Springs, mathematics; Rosetta Reed, Springfield, home economics; Kay Sawyer, Bedford, Iowa, music; Nanetta Turner, Savannah, physical education; Harriet Watson, Maryville, home economics; Louise Wintermute, Blocton, Iowa, social science; Eddie Woltz, St. Joseph, elementary education.

Pledges were required to study the constitution and by-laws of Kappa Delta Pi, which is an honor society in education.

Tri Sigma girls are busily studying for chapter exams which they will take February 20. These tests are given each year to each active member.

Alphas Select Their New Sweetheart

Amid red and white streamers and surrounded by small red hearts, Jane Costello is crowned Alpha Sig sweetheart by President J. W. Jones, at the sorority's annual Sweetheart Dance, held Saturday, February 16, at the Country Club. Jane is president of the sorority.

"Old Fashioned" Design Sets Atmosphere of Sorority Dance

Jane Costello Is Crowned Sweetheart of Alpha Sigma Alpha; Special Entertainment Is Provided

By turning back the hands of time to days of old, the Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority created a new and different atmosphere for their traditional Sweetheart Dance, February 16.

The old fashioned theme was carried out in the decorations and the entertainment. Under a canopy of red and white crepe paper frills, the guests danced to the music of Bill Baker's orchestra.

In front of the fireplace was spotlighted the silhouetted figures of an old fashioned boy and girl within a large red heart. White satin hearts surrounded the room.

During intermission Jane Costello, president, was crowned Sweetheart of Alpha Sigma Alpha. Pat Davidson and Jackie Donaldson each sang a solo. Mary Jane Kurtz played a piano selection. A special valentine number was presented by the Beauty Shop quartet, Elvaale Donaldson, Helen Zimmermann, Joan Williams, and Jean Greager.

Ice cream decorated with tiny red hearts, white cakes and strawberries and punch were served to the guests.

The chaperones were Dr. and Mrs. Frank W. Grube, Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Mulford, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Morris.

Sig Tau Pledges Are Shown No Mercy

The week was a busy one for the Taus, especially the pledges. With Monday came the beginning of Hell Week and all its rigors. Several bits of useful information, such as the measurements of various body parts, were gleaned from the student body by the pledges for the enlightenment of the actives during the early part of the week.

Wednesday night was the date of the long awaited basketball game which pitted the Sig Tau Bums against the Phi Sig Crums. After a close first quarter, the Bums, paced by George Anderson, Jack Bright, Herbie Awe, Tom Carver, Frank Meyer, and other former prep school stars, routed the Crums by a score of 35-24. Skillful handling of the team by Coach "Phog" Kysar played an important part in the Bum victory.

After the game informal initiation really got under way with the dispatching of pledges on various expeditions, which for some proved quite profitable. Bob Kariger collected the livestock for the hog farm which he intends to operate after graduation. Through the efforts of their pledges, it will be possible for several actives to enter the lingerie business.

Early Sunday morning found the pledges hiking back toward Maryville from secluded parts of the country. This, of course, was in the interest of their health, for after a passive week the fresh air and exercise was thought to be beneficial.

Later in the morning all the Taus gathered at the Granada Cafe for breakfast and then attended the Christian Church en masse. Formal initiation for Bob Kariger, Bud Kysar, Don Norton, Phil Larkin, John Garner, and Frank Babb was held in the afternoon at the Tau Club.

Faculty Members Are Portrayed by Peppers

Green and White Peppers furnished many laughs at the half-time of the Maryville-Rolla basketball game when they presented a "take-off" on faculty members at a basketball game.

The cast included Elvaale Donaldson as President J. W. Jones; Kay Hagee as Coach Peterson; Joan Williams as Dr. Sterling Surrey; Betty Nazarene as Miss Katherine Franken; Carolyn Canon as Dr. Frank Grube; Jane Costello as Dean W. A. Brandenburg; Barbara Coy as Miss Rachel Taul; Janie Kurtz as Miss Bonnie Magill.

The remaining Peppers represented the Maryville and Rolla Teams.

His Father Dies
Bob Douglas, freshman, was called to his home at Albany January 29, because of the death of his father.

Random Shots

By BOB KARIGER

George "Bud" Iddings has been very complimentary lately... about his team of air force instructors plus... have played their students many times... Bud boasts of that one overtime victory.

Rumor is that Roger Grunwald played the best game of his career against Warrensburg... he got in for twelve seconds... shot once and fouled once... That Warrensburg game is something to talk about... last year the Mules on their court employed the same tactics of stalling against the Bearcats... if they were as bitter as Maryville that night... they were far from happy last week.

In that game... Dick Buckridge... little guard who seems committed to foul... was sent out as a result of a fifth foul in the fourth quarter... an unusual occurrence.

Something not unusual is hearing KFEQ Sports Director Bob Russell mentioning Dean Stuck... at the last home game even Dr. Sterling Surrey had his name transmitted over the wireless.

In the Warrensburg game... one of the referees... Alex George... after separating a scramble in the middle of the court... Coulter, Nathan, and a Warrensburg player... in giving the ball to the Green and White on the sidelines said... "First and ten on the fifty yard line."

Mr. Irving S. Spigle and the tape recorder became part of the team on the last trip... some members of the team have confessed that they have plenty of time on the bench to run the machine for Coach Peterson... besides them... many avid basketball fans have stated that they would like to learn to run the recorder if they could get so much for so little service... politics?

And George Coulter's new name?... "Harvey," somebody said.

Five seniors have already played their last home game against MIAA opponents... when the Bearcats beat the Warrensburg Mules... a great tribute by the team to the school in its final home contest... a memorable one for the seniors... this week end, however, Roger Grunwald, Kirby Lyle, George Nathan, Charlie Ramsey, and John Yurchak will complete their roles in State College basketball competition.

Roger Grunwald, who is a product of St. Joseph... is hoping to obtain a coaching position there after graduation... his past record indicates that wherever he is placed he'll come out on top... Grunwald believes that a team must have height in order to control the rebounds... which is, he says, a vital item in the winning of basketball games... a hint toward Green and White play?

Kirby Lyle has been a definite asset to the Bearcats for three years... this year he did not join the squad until after Christmas vacation... since then there has been a greater integration... producing a closely knit team... Kirby is a Maryville boy.

George Nathan... who wandered in here last year... has been an essential plug to the Bearcat team... his offensive playing has been second only to Dick Buckridge... as far as scoring goes...

George leads the team in defensive rebounds and is second rebounder on offense... students will long remember his sensational, unpredictable, shots... which scored about 35 per cent of the time... although using up his varsity eligibility this year, George claims that he will probably be back next year to get his degree.

Charlie Ramsey... from up near Hopkins way... still in Missouri... has been one of Coach Don Peterson's dependable, consistent ball players... competing for the Bearcats for four years, Ramsey has been an advantage to the team... although he modestly denies it, he is "dead" on those corner shots... of all opponents St. Benedict's knows his wrath the best.

John Yurchak... from the little, big city of Kansas City, Kansas, is another of the consistent type... John missed out in the early part of the season with foot trouble... but he came back for the better segment of the second half to help as a strong substitute for the starting five... He, as Ramsey, is a three year letterman.

This year the loss of these men will be noticed considerably... Ramsey, Nathan, and Lyle are starters along with Coulter and Buckridge... Grunwald and Yurchak have been capable replacements when Coach Peterson needed strong substitution... Good luck... "Thanks for a job well done."

Meanwhile... intramural competition has been concluded once again... various groups are still in a daze over the outcome... many players are still wandering around looking for their coaches or information as to when they play... but it's over anyway... at any rate it was a lot of fun... maybe not in comparison with other years... interest seemed to be lacking, however... and team organization was very inadequate so that there were many forfeitures... we'll see how it gets along in softball competition... it would be an interesting analysis though to discover if this new program really provided athletic competition for non-varsity boys... Intramural Commission, how about it?

Wayne Anderson... from Atlantic, Iowa... who lettered in track last year in the distances... said in a recent visit he planned to run for the College again next quarter... not that we need him, but... "Sure, ten minutes is long enough to practice, Wayne."

At the St. Benedict's game Max "Hockey" Hoehener and Gaylord "Whitey" Meyers were on leave from the Marines and were taking in the game... both lieutenants, the two have changed their battle ground from the football field.

A determined Maryville basketball team closed their home season Monday, February 11, as they rose to their greatest heights of the year to score an impressive 42-35 decision over a highly rated Warrensburg five.

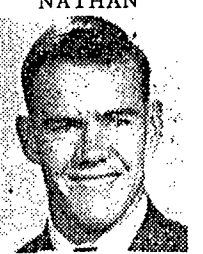

The Bearcats who had dropped their last four games, trailed only once during the entire evening. Biddle Freund, Warrensburg guard hit a leaping one-hander as the game got underway and then Coach Don Peterson's charges took over for keeps.

Maryville led 9-6 at the end of the first quarter. The visiting Mules found the going rugged as the Cats, who played their best defensive game of the season, held them to only one field goal in the first 10 minutes of action.

Locals Dominate Game During the second stanza the locals continued to dominate the game with brilliant defensive play and Don Price, sub Warrensburg forward, connected twice from outside the free throw circle for the invaders only second period fielders. While all this was going on the Maryville offense hit on 9 of 28 shots at the bucket to hold a narrow 20-16 half time advantage.

After five minutes of the third period had elapsed, the Maryville crew had built up a 10 point advantage and the Mules with their tall post men Jim Hoverder and Glenn Kammeyer completely bottled up by the tenacious guarding of Chuck Ramsey and George Coulter trailed 36-26 as the fourth and final period began.

Lyle Performs Brilliantly Kirby Lyle who performed brilliantly all night hit two set shots and George Coulter a driving lay-up and the hand-writing was on the wall. With a 16 point lead the locals started a stalling game with eight minutes remaining to play. Five minutes and 53 seconds later, and minus three of their starters

Intramural Basketball Tourney Closes as Teams Complete Play

Leading all the way, Dean Stuck's team V of the Red Division copped the championship by downing Don Norton's team I, 47 to 27. This is the first championship under the new intramural program. The other division, the Blue, was to complete its final championship contest last night.

After the men's intramural program went through three weeks of round robin play, the Commission drew up a double elimination tourney for both the Blue and Red divisions. Into the finals of the Blue division went Walt Stanton's southwest Iowa team, winner of winners bracket and George Haw's team, winner of the losers bracket.

Stanton's team went through to the finals without a loss, while Haw's team had one defeat at the hands of Rex Plummer's quintet in first play. Haw's team met Plummer again in the championship of the losers bracket in order to see who was going to play the southwest Iowa group for the overall championship of both leagues.

Fighting Second Round Action in the second round started by Blue league teams found Team V beating Team VI 56-30; Team II beating Team VII 41-26; and Team V therefore met Team II for the championship of the winners bracket. Stanton's quintet won handily 35-29.

Teams in the losers bracket continued their play and Team VIII beat Team I 46-39; Team VII beat Team VI 32-31; and Team III beat Team IV 52-51. In the third round Teams III and VII both won their games and so battled it out for the losers bracket title. Team III won and so earned the chance to meet Stanton's crew in the finals.

Red Division Finals Fighting to the finish, Team V won over Team IV 35-33 and put the crown on for the winners bracket. Team I found victory in the losers flight as it was given a forfeit by Team II, who could not get enough players to play the final game.

Last Minute Rally Gives Ravens 52-43 Win Over Bearcats

Bill Dollard and Benny Peters staged a two man scoring spree in the last five minutes of play Friday, February 8, to lead St. Benedict's to a 52-43 decision over the local Bearcats in a well played game. The loss marked the fourth consecutive defeat for Maryville and gave St. Benedict's the fourteenth win of the season.

The Cats who came up with one of their best performances of the season played brilliantly for 35 minutes before the aforementioned Dollard and Peters took matters into their own hands. In the early stages of the ball game Coach Don Peterson's local forces managed to keep the Ravens pretty well in check. The first quarter ended with both teams all tied at 12-12.

Cage Games With Cape and Rolla This Week Mean Either Fourth or Sixth Place Standings

Will Fight Indians Friday In Revenge of Early Loss; Are Favored Over Cellar-Dwelling Miners

Maryville attempts to achieve higher standings in the MIAA conference this week end as it engages the Cape Girardeau Indians and the Rolla Miners on a week end excursion.

Coach Don Peterson, whose team is one of the anchors of the conference, can have the Green and White maneuvered into a possible fourth place standing if two victories can be collected.

The meeting with Cape will provide an opportunity for the Bearcats to obtain revenge for a stinging 51-49 upset on the Maryville court. This loss to Cape initiated a string of three consecutive losses and dropped Maryville from conference contention.

Cape Has Victories Cape gained its second victory of the season by defeating Maryville: its first came from a win over the luckless Rolla Miners. Since then the Indians have dropped three games and have taken a tour of Warrensburg and Springfield.

Kirkville has beaten the Indians twice, 59-39 and 54-37. Cape has relied heavily upon Ray Estes, who although far from the top of leading MIAA scores has a 9.33 average per conference game.

Rolla, meanwhile, will conclude its conference play in the game with the Bearcats. The Miners have two wins and seven losses. The two wins were victories over the Cape Indians and the Kirkville Bulldogs. Maryville trounced the Miners 75-49 when Dewey Allgood made his northern tour.

Going Will Be Tough To Rolla a victory would mean a possible fourth place tie in the conference. Men such as Faulkner, Christopher and Huffman who have 13.38, 12.25, and 10.63 conference averages will make the going tough for the Bearcats on the Rolla court Saturday night.

Buckridge leads the Bearcats with an average of 9.83 points per game in conference play. In all games played, however, Dick has a 12.27 average that ranks fifth among MIAA players.

Excluding the Kirkville game, Maryville has a present conference record of two wins and five losses. A victory over Kirkville and two wins over Rolla and Cape could give the Bearcats an even season and an 11-9 total for all games played this season.

Bearcats Can Play Havoc The Bearcats can still play havoc with the second and third place teams in their fighting for top standing. When Maryville knocked the Mules into a 5 and 3 record, it zoomed Kirkville's chances for a higher rating.

Kirkville Edges Bearcats in Last Few Seconds 41-38

The Maryville Bearcats lost a M. I. A. A. cage battle, 42-39, to the Kirkville Bulldogs Friday in the last minute of play at Kirkville.

The ball game, exceeding rough all the way through, was tied 39-all with a minute to go when the 'Dogs dumped in a bucket and got a charity shot on a foul to win.

Six Maryville players, and two Bulldogs, went out on fouls in the hard-fought action which was riddled with tied scores and near-even counts from beginning to end.

The foul count and free throws made the difference with 39 fouls called against the 'Cats and 25 against Kirkville. The Bulldogs made good on 16 charity tosses to the Bearcats seven to triumph despite three fewer field goals.

Willard Sims dumped in 14 tallies for the victors as Dick Buckridge tossed 12 for the 'Cats.
